Cricket Namibia CEO, Johan Muller "We are very pleased to reunite with Walvis Bay Salt Refiners. The lockdown enforced a cancellation of the traditional tournament in August, but we are excited to continue this partnership. Opportunities for players to grow and develop, while enjoying this wonderful sport are the main objectives of both Cricket Namibia and Walvis Bay Salt Refiners. I want to thank Andre Snyman, MD of Salt Refiners, for his company's wonderful contribution towards youth development and ultimately upliftment of the community of Walvisbay. One of Cricket Namibia's strategic focus points is the increase in the number of games for our school-based players. The introduction of a Central Youth Tournament, the National APS SIXES and now the reintroduction of the Walvis Bay Salt Tournament contributes significantly to that strategy. Tournaments like these play a major part in the development of a holistic child. Thank you Walvis Bay Salt for investing in the future."

Walvis Bay Salt Refiners MD, Andre Snyman referring to the famous quote of Sebastian Coe, well know Olympic athlete said "Sport is a universal language, building more bridges between people than anything else I can think of...". He also pointed out the challenges the town and community of Walvis Bay experienced during 2020 because of Covid, and expressed his trust that the coastal tournament will allow the children to play and enjoy the game.

We are looking forward to an exciting festival of the Salt Refiners Tournament.
